PRESENT INCUMBENTS HAVE NO OPPONENTS

City Trustees and Treasurer Now In Office, Candidates for Reelection on April 12th.

The general municipal election is only ten days off and although three trustees are to be named and a city treasurer, aspirants for office are few and far between. The present incumbents, George Breitenbach and Fred Bulotti whose terms expire are candidates for reelection and Wm. F. Clewe is a candidate for treasurer to succed himself.

The honor of serving the city is not assiduously sought after by many of our citizens who look on it as a thankless and unremunerative task. However interest in civic matters continue to inspire some of the dependable polticians like Mr. Breitenbach and heavy property owners like Mr. Bulotti who are willing to devote themselves to Sonoma's welfare.

The city treasurer's position has been carefully filled by the incumbent and municipal funds are very efficiently safeguarded and looked after by Honest William who will continue to guard the excheques during the next four years.

The vacancy on the Board of Trus- to occur on account of the departure of City Trustee Campbell for Arizona will make it incumbent upon Mayor Dal Pogetto to appoint someone for the short term.

BARNES' CIRCUS AT SANTA ROSA

Ferocious animals and charming bits of femininity are curiously interminglied in the performance of the Al G. Barnes 4-ring wild animal circus, which exhibits in Santa Rosa on Tuesday, April 6.

With its 1200 wild and semi-tamed animals, its 60 beautiful girls under 20, its 600 employees, 550 horses and canvas city, all transported on two special trains of 52 cars specially made and owned by the show, this circus presents an exhibition unequalled in the annals of circusdom, and on a massive and gorgeous scale.

There are 103 separate thrillers, enough to last until the Barnes show comes to town again. The two-mile long street parade starts at 10:30, and the doors open at 1 and 7 p.m.

"GEE WHIZ" A MASQUERADE!

"Gee Whiz" a masquerade is the catchy announcement on posters announcing a mask ball for the night of April 17th at Pancrazi auditorium Glen Ellen. There will be liberal prizes and class A music of the jazz variety so dance lovers from all over the county will be interested in the announcement.

Miss Helen Thurston of the Oakland school department has been the guest of Mrs. Ralph Hotz this week. Miss Thurston was a teacher in the Healdsburg grammar school for several years, and is a former Santa Rosa girl.

EASTER SUNDAY TO BE OBSERVED AT CHURCHES

Special Services and Music in Sonoma Will Make Glad Day of Resurrection.

The churches of Sonoma will be beautifully decorated tomorrow, Easter Sunday, and with fair weather obtaining, the attendance at all the places of worship will be large, as fine sermons have been prepared, and special invitations issued to fraternal orders to be present. The Odd Fellows will attend the Congregational Church in a body tomorrow evening, and the Masonic members have been bidden to the Methodist services at 7:30 p. m.

The morning services will be the occasion of splendid discourses by the resident pastors, and at St. Francis Church Father Mallon, Paulist, will deliver an eloquent sermon.

Early mass at St. Francis Church will be held at eight o'clock, with high mass at eleven. Glen Ellen will celebrate its mass at nine o'clock.

ASSISTANT CO. ENGINEER ON HIGHWAY CONDITIONS

The Sebastopol Commercial Club had Assistant County Engineer Heft talk on the present status of highway building in Sonoma County at a recent meeting called for the purpose of ascertaining prospects of getting action in road matters.

He stated that the difficulties encountered in making preliminary surveys entailed much time. The surveys at the present time are practically 75 pr cent complete. In regard to the order in which the roads were to be built, he said that this was established by the supervisors last August and the plans could not be deviated from. At the present time only two roads are being constructed. One is the Petaluma-Valley Ford road and the other the Healdsburg-Napa County line road. About two miles of grading has been completed on the former road by day labor.

He stated that the bond issue will not nearly suffice for the building of the highways as contemplated in the original specifications, but that Engineer Aldrich will do the best he can with the money available. That is, if the money will not build all the concrete highways specified, he will build macadam, and if there is not sufficient for macadam he will gravel them, but the grading and surfacing will be done on all roads. In this regard he stated that the money as provided in the original bond issue would have to be expended on the specified roads and no funds could be transferred from one road to another nor could any of them be eliminated.

He further stated that the roads would have to be constructed in the order originally specified by the supervisors. This order is as follows:

1. Petaluma-Sonoma road.
2. Petaluma-Valley Ford.
3. Healdsburg-County Line.
4. Guerneville-Jenner. I
5. Cazadero-Jenner.
6. Sebastopol-Forestville.
7. Forestville-Guerneville.
8. Sonoma to State highway.
9. Sebastopol-Freestone.
10. Healdsburg-Forestville.
11. Jenner to Mendocino line.
12. Sebastopol-Cotati.
13. Graton-Occident Park.
14. Valley Ford-Jenner.
15. Valley Ford-Freestone.
16. Santa Rosa-Sebastopol.

These roads must all be constructed with the funds originally specified for them and no other course can possibly be pursued.

SONOMA WATER CO. SUES BRUCE WEATHERHEAD

The Sonoma Valley Water, Light and Power Co., of Sonoma, in a suit filed in the Superior Court against Bruce Weatherhead of El Verano, attacks the validity of a deed it made to the defendant May 20, 1916, and seeks restitution of the property, together with $4000 costs and restraining order to prevent the defendant from exercising any rights in the property pending the action.

According to the complaint, the plaintiff deeded the property to the defendant, but not having secured the sanction of the State Railroad Commission and that body never having passed upon the act the plaintiff alleges that the deed is null and void and that by the adverse possession of the defendant since the deed was given it has suffered damages of $1000 as well as lost rent of the property, valued at another $1000, while in tearing down and dismantling a water tank on the property another $2000 damage resulted.

Attorney Frank Sprague represents Weatherhead.

FIFTY FORDS ALL IN A BUNCH

The big delegation of 180 farm advisors which passed through Sonoma traveled in fifty autos and each and every car was a Ford.

And each car had in bright letters on the front door panel the words "Farm Advisor," and the county they represented, except the cars occupied by university attaches, which were lettered appropriately. It was a good demonstration for the Ford people.

It required a special trip of the San Rafael-Richmond ferry to carry the cars and none other were taken on the trip, so that the steamer was a floating garage with every car on board a Ford.

GRAPE GROWERS MET YESTERDAY AND SIGNED UP

The California Grape Growers' Exchange held two meetings in Sonoma Valley yesterday, and signed up a number of leading growers. H. F. Stoll and E. M. Sheehan explained that while the plan to organize depended upon the amount of tonnage which could be signed up, the outlook was very encouraging for an effective marketing organization. The gentlemen state that many avenues are open to the vineyardists if through organization they can pledge a big tonnage. They pointed out that builders of dehydrators would put up modern plants to dry grapes in various localities if the association could promise certain tonnage to them.

SUPERVISORS REFUSE TO YIELD DISTRICT TO COUNTY ENGINEER---LEADS TO RECALL TALK

CUNNINGHAM UNDER FIRE AT INDIGNATION MEETING THURSDAY AT SANTA ROSA, AND DISTRICT ATTORNEY HOYLE'S ENEMIES DRAG HIM INTO THE FRAY TOO.

The refusal of Supervisor Cunningham to turn over his district to County Engineer Aldrich and the backing Cunningham received from his colleagues, Supervisors Goddard and Weise, when demand was made by a delegation and widely-signed petition of tax-payers for Cunningham to let go, has led to a mass-meeting at Santa Rosa and talk of recall.

Cunnningham refused to include his supervisorial district in the new plan of supervision by the County Engineer, and went to court about it. The Superior Court of Sonoma county decided that the Reams (Engineer) act was legal, and that the work on the roads, including Cunningham's district shoud be uniformly supervised.

Cunningham was not satisfied with the ruling, and instructed his attorney, William F. Cowan, to appeal his contention to the higher courts.

A petition was then circulated demanding that the Board of Supervisors compel Cunningham to yield. Upon the presentation of the document, three members of the Board "stood pat," including Supervisor Weise of this district. Weise turned over his own district months ago, ut when called upon to explain his stand for Cunningham, declared that he wanted to have the decision of the Supreme Court before being willing to oust his colleague from control of the Third District.

Those who presented the petition and were turned down by the Board left the Supervisors' rooms in indignation, the meeting breaking up amidst the most acrimonious discussion.

Seizing on the situation, the Tax-Payers' Association at once got busy and marshaled all their forces for a big mass-meeting Thursday, in which former advocates of the recall were joined by those who had the fresh rebuff at the hands of the Supervisors still sticking in their craws.

About 120 men and women gathered to protest what they term "obstructionists' tactics," in the matter of building Sonoma county's highway.

It soon developed that they were not only out for Supervisor Cunningham's scalp, but were also set on getting the pelt of District Attorney Hoyle.

It was a stormy session, with seathing denunciation of those who were charged with impeding Sonoma county's road-building program. After lengthy discussion, it was decided to take action to recall both Cunningham and Hoyle.

Hoyle declares that he has nothing to fear at the hands of those who who would force him to close his eyes to legality and let roads be buil regardless of price or proper procedure. He says that when the tax-payers hear the cry "turn the rascals out," that the people should know who the real rascals are, and that they will know, very shortly.

It will then become apparent who the true obstructionists are, declares Mr. Hoyle. He calls attention to the fact that the general fund of the various supervisors has been almost entirely depleted through the enormous expenditures by County Engineer Aldrich.

District Attorney Hoyle says he was elected to advise the people of Sonoma county and their officials as to procedure in road building and other matters, and that he will continue to insist upon the law being adhered to to the letter, and the people's interest safeguarded as long as he holds his position of trust.

Just how the tax-payers' interests are being observed by Aldrich and his supporters, he declares will be given the full light of publicity, and predicts that others will be tarred with the same stick that his enemies are preparing for him, if the stick ever gets into the hands of the voters of Sonoma County.

It is a well known fact that the salaries paid the County Engineer and his force of deputies amount to more than the salaries paid all the other officials in the county court house and that so far no roads have been built. It is also acknowledged by Aldrich that the $1,600,000 voted by our people at the bond election to build Sonoma County's highways will not come anywhere near building them. The tax-payers have little to show for the money but salary receipts, preliminary surveys and two miles of grading on the Petaluma-Valley Ford road.

If the present determination to institute recall proceedings is put through, it will embroil Sonoma County in a pitched political battle and road work will indeed be obstructed.

Under the law of recall in this state, voters not only vote "yes" and "no" on the matter of the recall but also declare their preference between two candidates for the office under consideration. One candidate, of course, is the official sought to be recalled, while the other is someone who has been chosen to oppose him. Who will finally be named to oppose Hoyle and Cunningham in case the matter is carried to a conclusion, has not yet been determined.

Mrs. D. Hatton has returned home from Red Bluff, where she has been for many weeks caring for her daughter, Mrs. Zimmerman, and grandchildren, who were ill. Her daughter had flu and pneumonia about the time she was to give birth to a baby, and was in a hospital for a time, where for weeks her life was despaired of. Mother and baby boy finally came through the ordeal safely, however, and Mrs. Hatton and the family left the north Saturday last. The Zimmermans will reside at their former home in Calistoga.

SEEKS DAMAGES AS A RESULT OF ACCIDENT

Captain Yellowly, who, while acting as a caretaker at a valley resort, was injured by the family car of J. K. Bigelow while attempting to cross the road at El Verano some weeks ago, may seek damages in the courts. Yellowly maintains that he suffered painful lacerations as a result of being run over by one of Bigelow's sons, who was driving the machine. He took the matter of damages up with his attorney, Frank Sprague, who is now seeking to adjust matters between his client and Bigelow. Yellowly is said to be the scion of a titled English family.

ARTHUR YOUNG'S APPLICATION FOR PAROLE COMES UP TODAY

Arthur Young, known as the $75 check man, and who victimized the head of a prominent Sonoma family in addition to many others, has applied for parole in San Francisco, where he was caught some time ago by the police. Should he succeed in being granted parole there, he will at once be confronted by the warrant held by Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan and taken into custody on the charge of passing worthless checks in Sonoma.

Young is a psychological puzzle, a drawing-room crook who kept the police of many cities following his trail for some months before he was finally captured. He claims to be an ex-Canadian army man and a teacher by profession.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Kruger (Ruth Poppe) were here from San Francisco last week in their new speedster racing car. They expect to take a trip to Tennessee in their machine in the near future.

D. A. Gordenker, the owner of a big coconut plantation in the Philippines, expects to pay a visit to the United States next year. Gordenker was a Sonoma High School graduate, and will be welcomed by many old friends when he comes to see his folks at Glen Ellen.

N. J. Heggie of the First National Bank returned from a business trip to Modesto this week, and is most enthusiastic over the wonderfully fine concrete streets which are that city's pride. Mr. Heggie says Sonoma must get in line with progress.

Owners of automobiles are complaining of youthful offenders who scratch and write upon cars standing on our streets. The offense is strictly against the law, and is punishable under the automobile law of the state, in addition to being a misdemeanor.

SEBASTIANI BUYS MORE PROPERTY

Purchases Holdings of William H. Daly, Adjacent to Cannery and Winery.

Sam Sebastiani, the enterprising wine and cannery man, continues to add to his big property holdings here, and this week showed his further confidence in Sonoma realty by purchasing from William S. Daly the wine cellar, residence, two cottages and five acres of land on which they are situated, just across the road from the Sebastiani cannery.

The big wine cellar, of stone, on the property, was originally built by L. Quartaroli, and will be utilized as a storehouse by Mr. Sebastiani. The residence and cottages on the place are rented, the big house being occupied by James Tate and family.

Sebastiani has been one of the heaviest local investors in Sonoma real estate the past year, and in addition to his recent purchases has just completed the handsome $18,000 residence where he and his family are to make their home. It is the finest residence in Sonoma Valley.

St. Barbara's Guild will meet at the G. H. Hotz home on Tuesday.

The Woman's Club dd not meet yesterday on account of Good Friday, but will hold its business meeting on the second Friday of this ing on the Second Friday of this month and the social session on the fourth Friday.

Miss Ida Caccia, who has been very ill with rheumatism at the Crane Sanitarium, is now at the home of Mrs. Rovai, where she is convalescing. Mrs. Caccia's illness affected her heart, but she is now resting comfortably.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Adler last week accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Frasier of Petaluma on a trip to a Mendocino lumber camp, in which Frasier is interested. Mr. Frasier is proprietor of the box factory in Petaluma. The party spent two days at the Wheelbarrow ranch above Willits, and enjoyed the trip immensely.

Lottie G. Benker and George W. Turner took out a license to wed in San Francisco Monday. Mrs. Benker had a narrow escape from death some months ago, when shot by a rejected suitor in the streets of San Francisco. She is well known here, where she has often visited friends at Schellville.

"LOVE THY NEIGHBOR, AND THY NEIGHBOR WILL DO LIKEWISE, SO JACK LONDON PROVED

At the recent memorial in Glen Ellen for the late lamented Jack London, a tribute written by his neighbor, W. S. Bonbright, seemed to prove that in loving his fellow-men and his neighbor, Jack London did not cast his bread upon the waters in vain, but his kindly spirit toward those around him came back two-fold. Here is what one of his neighbors in the Valley of the Moon thought of him:

It has been truly said that in this vast, diversified realm of Nature which we have named California, there is but one Glen Ellen—one Sonoma—

A land where lights and shades
Run riot in the forest glades.
Where mountains wall the western sky
In majesty. The redwoods sigh.
Night falls. The scents of June
Descend upon the valley—
The lovely Valley of the Moon.

It may be said with equal truth that in the annals of Literature there is but one Jack London.

We are paying a just tribute to our lamented friend and fellow-townsman when we say that as a man and author he was unique in the history of Letters.

Who is among us that came within the radiant influence of his kindly manner, his genial smile, his unmistakable sincerity, his warm, unselfish interest in the commonplaces of life, who will not echo this sentiment? It is not always he who thrills us with the dramatic intersity of his characterizations, his virile portraiture of the animated scenes of Nature, his colorful descriptions of the events that daily come and go on the stage of life, that can so readily lay aside the mantle of his genius, and in a spirit which sheds beneficence as naturally as Spring exhales fragrance, or twilight breathes peace, thus assimilate with his fellows. Jack London never made use of what seems to be the distinguished man's prerogative, the privilege of dwelling in the upper story of the Temple of the Brotherhood of Man. His great sympathy, his kindly consideration, his helpful hand, went out in fellowship with those who journeyed with him, and gave him a clear title to membership in the universal human family.

The measure of a man's greatness is not always to be computed by the products of his genius. As the more beauteous lines of the capstone are impressed upon the eyes of the beholder as he views the substructure of the building beside him, so even genius itself, aglow with the spark of life Divine, basks in a sombre light, while heroism, unselfish devotion—those higher qualities—are radiant with the white sunlight of Divine approval. It is thus that we like to think of our friend and companion. Great as was his work as an author, still greater and dearer to us was his character.

Give to those great tales of his due appreciation; live with him his marvelous stories of life, unparalleled as they are; concentrate your thought upon the man's work, but not the man behind his work, and see how colorless and unsatisfying the picture to those who knew him. "It is better to inspire the heart with a noble sentiment than to teach the mind a truth of science," and while our delighted minds pay tribute to the creations of his genius, the lights he left shining in the halls of our memory—his early struggles, his patient suffering under adversity, the harrowing experiences of his early life, his heroism in adversity, his cheerfulness under discouragement, and the sympathy of his great heart going out in love to all God's creatures—these have added lustre to the name of one whom the world at large is proud to honor. He loved to be called Jack London. Ultra conservatism, ostentation, self-esteem, were as foreign to his nature as dark is to day. Titles and terms of distinction were in his case superfluous, unnecessary, and sullied the clearness and truth of his rare personality.

He was the exemplification of that charity which is as broad as the universe, as impartial as the sun. He was mute in his profession of faith in a hereafter, yet it would be difficult to find a character whose acts and words more fully justified the truth as it is recorded in Scripture.

While from our view it is difficult for us to reconcile what seems to us the inconsistency of his belief, still, when we consider his candor, his honesty of purpose, his undoubted sincerity, and the evident aim and object of his life, to do good, we must acknowledge that he stands the test of the scriptural statement, "By their works ye shall know them."

Let us be honest. We know of many great names on the roll of Literature who, through their works, have been a power for good, but who personally, by comparison, have been abject failures. Jack London saw through the glass darkly: Who can doubt, in the light of the countless acts of kindness which illumined and ennobled his brief career, that he now sees face to face?

Glen Ellen, March 17, 1920.

WITH CYCLONES hitting the Middle West, isn't it about time that the people back there began to think of hitting the trail for California?

THEY'RE TALKING of the High Cost of Living taking a drop, yet taking a drop now comes pretty near being an offense. So what's the use?

HOOVER'S GROWING STRENGTH in California as Republican nominee for President of the United States foretells results at the approaching primaries.

WE READ of most horrible offenses against the law nowadays, for instance, selling undersized clams, and carrying an oversized discovered hip pocket flask. Curses!

SONOMA COUNTY did not vote nearly enough ready money for its highways, says County Engineer Aldrich. Judging from the salaries the County Engineer's force is drawing down, tax-payers' money must pay fat salaries first and build roads afterwards.

SAMUEL M. SHORTRIDGE is a candidate for the United States Senate on the Republican ticket. Mr. Shortridge is no pussyfooter. His attitude against the League of Nations and against Asiatics is pronounced. He is also inclined to be "wet." Sam will be a formidable candidate.

DESPITE THE FRICTION during County Road Engineer Aldrich's regime in Sonoma county, that official has been able to spend a lot of money. When we begin to see what kind of a crop of modern highways Sonoma county is to get from the sowing, the average tax-payer will heave a sigh of relief.

IT IS REALLY PATHETIC that the Socialists have to go to jail to find a candidate for President. Stripes are not sufficient for most Americans, even if the word "martyr" is blazoned across them. The Stars and Stripes of Old Glory, and respect therefor, is a first pre-requisite of an aspirant for the presidency of the U. S. A.

RIP VAN WINKLE will sure rub his eyes in wonderment if he comes to Sonoma after April 26th and finds concrete streets being built. Glad he didn't show up during the proud days of Sonoma's freak half street, or poor old Rip might have croaked then and there. Go to the polls this month and banish Sleepy Hollow street methods forever from the main thoroughfares of Sonoma.

RUSSELL COLTON MARRIES MICHIGAN GIRL

Russell Colton, a former Sonoma boy, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Russell of Pontiac, Michigan, has embarked on the sea of matrimony. Young Colton was overseas with the American expeditionary forces, and made a proud record in the army.

His marriage recently to a fair daughter of Michigan was written up in the society column of the Pontiac Daily Press as follows:

The wedding of Miss Kathleen M. Douglas and Russell D. Coulton was solemnized Tuesday evening, March 16th, at 8 o'clock, at the family home, 54 South Parke street. The parlor, where the ceremony was performed, was prettily decorated, and Rev. M. J. Sweet of the First Congregational Church officiated. The bride wore a navy blue suit and carried a bouquet of roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Pauline Douglas, and her brother, Eugene Douglas, was best man. The ceremony was witnessed by thirty relatives and friends. A two-course wedding luncheon was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Coulton left for a trip to Iowa. They will make their home in Pontiac.

WISE BUYERS DO NOT OVERLOOK POINTERS

Wise buyers in these days of the high cost of living do not overlook the ads in the Index-Tribune. There is valuable information every week in the advertising columns. Often there is good food for thought, too, as for instance in the recent advertisement of W. W. Carter.

OREGON VISITORS TO VALLEY OF THE MOON

Col. E. H. Hofer and wife, of Salem, Oregon, were here Thursday enjoying the sights and scenes in and around our famous city. Col. Hofer, who is editor of the Manufacturer, the successful periodical devoted to the interest of all industries, was in the Valley of the Moon about two years ago, and paid it glowing tribute in an article which subsequently appeared in his magazine.

Col. Hofer was pleased to note Sonoma's advancement, and says that if we preserve our natural beauties and historic spots, all the world will yet come to our door.

The visitors called at the old Vallejo home, and were graciously received by Mrs. Emparan, and also went through the big cellars and cannery of Sam Sebastiani.

They left Thursday evening for Santa Rosa to visit Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Houston, former Oregon residents.

SONOMA MODERN BAKING ESTABLISHMENT ON BROADWAY

The Castagnasso building on Broadway has been transformed into a modern baking plant and sales-room for Al Dutil, who has moved from his former location near the post office to the new quarters. Mr. Dutil has all the modern equipment, including an electric bread and cake mixer, and the new bakery is sanitary and up-to-date in every respect. An oven with increased capacity was installed on the premises.

The sales department adjoins the baking department, and is attractively fitted up for the display of bread, cakes and pastry. Sonoma has reason to be proud of this modern baking plant.

MIKE AND HIRAM IN DAYS GONE BY

The Sacramento Union, in a recent issue, published a cartoon that is tickling the ribs of politicians all over the state. The central figure is that of Hiram Johnson, with hands aloft and an Armaggeddon look on his face. Below are the figures of William H. Crocker and Michael Henry De Young, each labeled "delegate." Johnson is represented as saying: "All together, boys, a man must eat," and "I can forget if you can." In addition there are the following quotations from speeches made by Johnson in his 1916 campaigns: "When there is a city to be pillaged; when there is a community to be robbed; when there is a man to be stabbed in the back—always lurking in the background can be found Michael Henry De Young." Johnson is also represented as saying, in 1916: "Now you can make no mistake; there is no room for W. H. Crocker and Michael Henry De Young and myself in the same political house." Down at the bottom of the cartoon is a donkey which is represented as saying: "For the love of Mike, don't mistake me for a Johnson delegate." Verily, politics do make strange bedfellows!—Petaluma Argus.

ROBBED OF TWO VALUABLE WATCHES

The theft of two valuable watches, both belonging to the same customer, was reported to Deputy Sheriff Joe Ryan by F. Mosso. The watches were taken from Mosso's shop, which the thief entered during the owner's absence. Deputy Sheriff Ryan is running down evidence which he believes will lead to the identity of the culprit.

A FAMOUS MISSION DESTROYED BY FIRE

The historic San Luis Obispo de Tolosa Mission, founded September 1, 1772, by Father Junipero Serra, was virtually destroyed by fire early last Saturday morning. Paintings said by the Mission attendants to be priceless and the Mission organ were saved. All escaped from the burning building in safety.

Nothing but the walls of the old edifice remained, and these were said to be greatly weakened and in danger of falling. The fire was said to be due to defective wiring.

The Mission of San Luis Obispo de Tolosa was the fifth of the early California missions to be established. It was the first in which mission tiles were used, these having been conceived to protect the missions from fires, which had damaged earlier missions of wood or grass roofs.

SONOMA FOLKS ENJOYED PICNIC AT SODA SPRINGS

Neal Dodge was host to a jolly picnic party last Sunday, and took his guests to Napa Soda Springs, where a most enjoyable day was spent. The trip was made in two cars, and there was a picnic lunch, wild flower gathering, and jolly good time at the picturesque resort where the journey ended. Those in the party were: Mrs. Dodge, Mrs. Carter, Mr. Gardener and Miss Elizabeth Gardener, Griff Baird, Misses Allen, Irma Adler, Geraldine Evans and Neal Dodge.

McCULLOUGH NOT TO COME TO BOYES SPRINGS

James H. McCullough, office manager of the Hotel St. Francis, will succeed Assistant Manager Charles Baad, who becomes manager of the Alexandria Hotel, Los Angeles, on May 1st. McCullough had resigned from the St. Francis to manage Boyes Hot Springs, in which he had acquired an interest. Thomas J. Coleman, manager of the St. Francis, induced him to stay, when Baad decided to go south.

EASTER WINDOW DISPLAY OF SONOMA VALLEY SHOE STORE

The Easter window of the Sonoma Valley Shoe Store has attracted much attention this week and Charles La Torres has been complimented on his up-to-date line of footwear and the artistic manner in which it is displayed. Spring-time flowers and tiny chicks on a white background make a pretty showing.

White shoes and also the new field mouse kid styles are featured.

TO ADVERTISE FOR BIDS FOR SONOMA HIGHWAY SECTION

The Board of Supervisors were in adjourned session all day Monday, and considered a large number of matters. Much time was devoted to preparing the list of election officers for the primaries on May 4th. These will be completed Saturday, to which time the board adjourned.

The board ordered all pumps, windmills and water tanks used on the roads to be removed, and the property stored, pending its disposal.

Revised plans and specifications were adopted and the cross sections for same adopted March 12th included for highway work.

Plans and specifications were adopted for the Sebastopol-Cotati concrete highway for a distance of 2.86 miles from the southerly limits of Sebastopol, and the clerk was directed to advertise for bids to be filed in his office by noon of April 16th, and to be opened at 1:30 o'clock that afternoon.

Similar procedure was taken relative to the Sonoma to state highway and the Healdsburg Napa county line highway.

Plans and specifications for the erection of a cold storage plant at the county farm were adopted, and the clerk was directed to advertise for bids to be filed by noon of April 16th, and to be opened at 1:30 o'clock that day.

The claim of W. O. Bledsoe for $2 for summoning a jury was rejected as illegal.

A resolution of intention to purchase certain Petaluma property from the Sonoma County National Bank for a county corporation yard at $2500 Monday, April 22d, at 10:30 o'clock, was adopted.

The County Engineer's requisition for equipment aggregating about $32,000 for handling concrete materials at the mixer by means of railroad and cars was approved. It is estimated that work now requiring four men can be done by the new method with one, and when the county has completed its work the material can probably be sold for 90 per cent of its cost, if desired.

PARENTE'S VERANO TRAINING CAMP LIVELY THIS WEEK

The presence of such celebrities as Charley Miller, who has been training the heavy-weight Sergeant Bunker at Parente's Verano training camp this week, has made things decidedly lively in the vicinity. The giant soldier boy was being put through his paces for the boxing match on the 1st with Soldier Marples. Miller, who has had experience in fighting with Willard, Palser, Gunboat Smith and other big fellows, pronounced Sergeant Bunker fine and fit when he left the Valley of the Moon for the State Capitol.

Accompanying the visiting celebrities to Sacramento were our native tomato king and boxer, Joe White, who is no slouch at the game himself, and was matched to box Roy Renner at the Coliseum up there.

VOTERS, THIS IS LAST DAY TO REGISTER FOR PRIMARIES

On May 4th the Presidential primaries will be held, and citizens who wish to vote will have their last opportunity today to register.

Any person who has registered since January 1st last, and has moved to a new place of residence, must see to it that his registration is changed prior to April 3d.

Any person who has already registered since January 1st who failed to give his political party, and who desires to vote for any party candidate May 4th, must see to it that his registration is changed to name that party on or before April 3d, in order to obtain a ticket at the primary.

LACK OF DATE MAKES KUNDE WILL INVALID

A will left by Kurt G. Kunde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kunde of the Kenwood section, Monday was invalidated by the fact that the deceased had failed to write the date line on the document. The words "Glen Ellen, Sonoma County, Cal.," and the "19" in the date line were printed, and this prevented the will being classed as an olographic document. It had been intended by the deceased to make it a holographic will.

The matter was presented to Judge Denny by Attorney Casey, and letters of administration were issued to the widow of deceased, Mrs. Alice Marie Kunde, in a bond of $10,000. The estate has a considerable quantity of wine on hand, and it is difficult to say whether or not this wine has any valuation whatever.

Fortunately, the distributive results of the court procedure will be identical with that requested in the will which Mr. Kunde made, and which cannot be probated. The property all goes to the widow and the infant daughter of deceased. The opening sentence of the will was: "I, Kurt G. Kunde, do, in case of my death, give to my wife and daughter all my money which rightfully belongs to me."

THE VACATION BOOK WILL BE ISSUED FOR 1920

The VACATION book issued annually by the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, but suspended during the past two years, will be issued for 1920. In this booklet is listed the resorts along and adjacent to its line, together with the location, price of board and other information desired by the vacationist. All bona fide resorts are invited to advertise in this book. For further particulars take up with the nearest ticket agent not later than April 5th or communicate with J. J. Geary, G. P. A., 64 Pine street, San Francisco.

JACK McDONNELL TO ORGANIZE DRIED APPLE MEN

Last Tuesday night several dried apple men of this section met at the office of J. P. McDonnell for the purpose of discussing the advisability of forming a co-operative selling organization to market the local dried apple output.

It is the purpose of the apple men to organize the entire state into a co-operative institution, and affiliate with some of the other dried fruit associations.

The originators of the plan have the assurance of 75 per cent of the local apple men that they will market their entire output through them should the organization be formed. The purpose will be to get the greatest benefit of the markets and to standardize the price and product. They state that through such an organization such conditions as prevail at the present time will be eliminated.

C. H. King, Joe Valentine, E. O. Nelson, L. Frei, Thomas French, J. P. McDonell, L. E. Barlow and many other prominent fruit men are interested in the proposition.—Sebastopol Times.

It is rumored that wedding bells will ring out for Miss Agnes Kiser, pretty daughter of Conrad Kiser. The young lady has plighted her troth to Elmer Harris, navy yard employee.

SONOMA VALLEY BANK INSTALLS ALARM SYSTEM

In order to give 100 per cent protection to its patrons, the Sonoma Valley Bank is having one of the latest electrical burglar alarm systems installed. The vaults are double lined, and electric wiring in between the linings causes the contrivance to sound instantly if the door to the vault is tampered with. It is absolutely burglar-proof.

The newly-installed burglar alarm at a Santa Rosa bank accidentally went off at 10:30 Monday night, and aroused the police and the entire city in the vicinity. Cashier Pressly had worked late, and in closing the vault doors started the alarm.

Miss Bernice Steiger and Jackie Steiger of San Francisco are visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. Watt this week.

Mesdames F. McGill and T. Keiser motored to Santa Rosa Wednesday.

Mr. Guilfoyle and family motored to Lakeville Sunday in their new Ford car.

Mrs. Alma Koeboom expects to visit Schellville's former school teacher Miss Harriet Watts now of Fullerton, during her Southern trip.

You will read it first in the Index-Tribune.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

THE SALOONS TRANSFORMED

As the cocoon is emerging into a butterfly,
Another schooner has passed in the night.
Another Sonoma saloon is undergoing a transformation.
Wake up, ye dry editor;
Don't let such good stuff get by you.
Sonoma under the dry regime
Is undergoing a perceptible change
In many of its business places.

* * *

Not even so much wetness as a Dew Drop's memory
Is to be left.
The dry wave swept over the former Dew Drop Inn last week
And lo this week it has become a watchmaker's palace!
This is the fourth Sonoma saloon to be transformed.

* * *

Witness the passing of the old landmark
Kept by Herman Laux for many moons.
It has become a furniture emporium.
Where once the bar regaled, the
Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet looms.
Where once the mahogany glistened,
Aluminum now shines.

* * *

Witness the Palm bar—now a market place,
For all the world to see.
Gone the glazed window and the swinging door.
Behold the orange, the lemon, the banana, and the apple,
Fruits of the earth, and everything in the vegetable kingdom.
Even the gaudy lattice-work, which in the palmy days
Trailed its painted autumn foliage to simulate vintage time,
Has found its way to a sunlit garden,
Where it is doing duty as a little white fence,
With real roses o'ergrown.

* * *

Where once the "O K" was all its name implied,
That saloon is scarcely a memory;
Pearls adorn the window where the
V held sway;
Books and pictures line the shelves
Where Barleycorn once was entrenched.

* * *

Good "dry" stuff, you say,
The story of the passing of Sonoma's saloon;
Yes, but the drys would fail to note that
Sonoma is still wet in spots;
But the spots are different.
Home, sweet home, with its cellar,
Is the one bright spot nowdays.

* * *

The saloon vanisheth,
But all the stuff it once boasted
Won't drown the memory of that insolence—
National prohibition.
You cannot rob the people of personal liberty,
And states of their rights,
And chortle over the fact
That thistles have become figs, or
Wine has become water.
There is a deeper question involved,
Apparent to those who think, and see beyond—
The mere transformation of a saloon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fisk, who have been visiting Mrs. Buchan, are planning a trip to Iowa this year, and will visit the grave of Mrs. Fisk's father, a veteran of the Civil War.

SMALL WATER SYSTEM ALLOWED TO SUSPEND

Pending dissolution of Mrs. Marie Lehrke's seven-customer water system at Sonoma, a minimum flat rate of $1.75 a month, an increase of 75 cents a month, is to be allowed by the State Railroad Commission. Mrs. Lehrke testified that the business was not large enough to justify operation. The water system will be discontinued January 21, 1921.

Now that the water matter has been dispensed with, C. Sganzini will buy the Lehrke property as a stock ranch. The new owner did not want to go into the water business.

LAST SAD RITES FOR MRS. BEHLER

The funeral of Mrs. Behler, pioneer mother of Glen Ellen, took place here last Sunday, and was largely attended. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Leopold Justi, L. Kunde, H. J. Weise, F. J. Kerridge, T. Cereghino, Daniel Friediger. Many relatives and friends followed the remains to their last resting-place in the Catholic Cemetery after the services at St. Francis Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood (Mina Colton) of Oakland, are the happy parents of a baby girl, now six weeks old. The proud mother is a daughter of Mrs. William Russell, who formerly resided here.

SCHOOL ELECTIONS RESULTS IN SONOMA VALLEY

The following trustees were chosen at the recent school elections in the various districts of Sonoma Valley:

Dunbar—Thomas Johnson.
El Verano—A. R. Gale.
Huichica—E. Forni.
Flowery—Frank Wattress.
Glen Ellen—Frank Edrington.
San Luis—Joe Kiser.

The Minges restaurant at Boyes Springs has been leased to George Darling and will be conducted as a high-class grill. Darling was reported to have taken the grill at Caliente Villa, but the report was erroneous.

D. H. Bonnell, representing Bouk's candy factory of Santa Rosa, was in town Monday and made a nice sale to Harrison and Steurmer, who are to carry the famous Fluffy Ruffles candy, which the factory produces in our own Sonoma county.

After all, the real enjoyment of music cannot exist where there is constant fear—fear of damaging the records, and the endless distraction of changing needles.

"Don't use the needle more than once."

"Don't scratch the record with the needle."

"Don't start the machine until the needle is in place.

A MESSAGE OF WARNING
READ! IMPORTANT!
Do you realize that the value of your insurable property, if acquired before 1916, has practically doubled? Do you know that the present cost of replacement, less a reasonable reduction for use, would be the basis of payment in the event of loss or damage? Have you increased your insurance proportionately? If not, you are liable to suffer a severe monetary loss. See me.
